SAY!

(By CHARLES J. ARNOLD)

There were at least two outstanding features of the C. of C. banquet, held Thursday night at the Methodist dining room—and that does not include the inclement weather.

About the most outstanding feature was the demonstration of musical ability shown by Don McLean, of the Ford Agency. Don clearly demonstrated that when it comes to the popular music of the day, he sure knows his stuff.

The musical trio had just completed playing "Sam the Accordion man" when John Cartwright who sat next to Don McLean, leaned over and whispered to him "Ask them to play 'Sam the Accordion Man'." Don, very accommodatingly, arose from the table walked entirely across the room and requested of the trio leader that he play "Sam, the Accordion Man". The leader looked up in astonishment and almost shouted: "Why, Don, we just finished playing that."

Another outstanding feature was a bright red tulip which adorned the coat lapel of His Honor Mayor Charles McGaughey. The why, where and when of it was never explained but it sure attracted a lot of attention.

The meeting was called arranged, managed and financed by Miss Helen Black, secretary extra-ordinary of Greencastle organizations, who, after charging you 75c for a ticket returned your 75c when she took your ticket at the door. Now if you can figure that out you have me bested. It is some sort of high finance which I have not yet solved.

In the semi-absence of Fred L. O'Hair, president of the C. of C. who was there to eat only, Joe Bamberger presided during the meeting and turned in a pretty good job of it, too. In view of the fact that Joe has been sending some of the boys meter refund checks, he is now enjoying a high ranking in their estimation and of course that helped a lot.

Fred O'Hair, accompanied by A. G. Brown the other town bank President had to leave post haste to catch a car to Brazil, where they attended a very important bankers meeting what ever that is.

Attention was called to the fact that there were two undertakers present. Just why there should be so many undertakers at such a live event was not determined.

Community singing was led by Perry Rush, and distorted by Don McLean and John Cartwright. As singers, these two last mentioned are wonderful chimney sweeps.

Dr. Joseph R. Morgan of Kokomo the speaker of the evening stressed the fact that Greencastle folks should "handle home products." And I would be delighted to have someone handle these two warblers in a singing bee. They are "home products."

When someone stole Don's gift cigar he got mad and went home. At least he gave that as an excuse but I honestly believe that he knew that the club treasurer was going to make a financial report showing an expenditure of $285 for a Rodeo guarantee and that that was his real reason. At any rate he left, leaving me as the only surviving representative of the Rodeo project to hear "them sad words."

It is well for auto drivers to remember that in driving you increase your chances of an accident 50 to 1 when you pull your automobile out of line. And—forty percent of the automobile accidents fatal to children occur when a child runs out from behind a parked car.

Like the old conundrum, "Why do the rivers always flow by the big cities," some people seem to think that it is the trees moving that makes the wind blow.

Business executives sometimes get mixed up with the same kind of logic. When business starts to pick up they begin to advertise.

And all the time it should be as plain as a blemish on a flapper's knee that advertising is the impulse that starts things moving.

GOVERNOR APPROVES ROAD PROJECT

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 29.—Mayor Herbert Males has been granted a divorce from his wife, Anna, to whom he had been married thirty-three years. The mayor charged his wife with nagging and quarreling; that she was irritable and sullen, and that she no longer showed him any love or affection.

BAINBRIDGE SENIOR PLAY NEXT THURSDAY

CLASS TO PRESENT "THE COUNTRY COUSIN" IN COMMUNITY HOUSE—MISS DOUGLAS IS DIRECTING PRODUCTION

The Senior Class of Bainbridge High School is presenting "The Country Cousin," a comedy in four acts, by Booth Tarkington and Julian Street published by Samuel French of New York. It will be given on Thursday evening, April 5, at eight o'clock in the gymnasium.

The moral growing out of the story is, "after all, it is not the worldly things that count so much in life, but the spiritual thing."

The opening scene is Mrs. Howitt's sitting room at Centerville, Ohio on a June morning.

Eleanor, Mrs. Howitt's youthful daughter, grows dissatisfied with the simple life of a small town and decides to leave her mother and go to New York where her father, who is divorced from Mrs. Howitt, lives so she can learn what "real" life is.

Her mother is very much grieved but Nancy, the Country Cousin, says it might be best for Eleanor to go, so she leaves her mother and Sammy Wilson, her chum who is working hard in college trying to be President of the United States some day, and goes to live with her father.

The second act takes place at a "Villa" by the sea on an August afternoon. Here Eleanor experiences some real society of New York and is leading a gay life when the Country Cousin arrives just in time to rescue her. Nancy is "snubbed" by Howitt's friends but she finally wins even George, a very stiff New Yorker, into seeing her side of life.

Eleanor decides this is not the life for her and wants to go back home to her mother, and Sammy Wilson arrives just in time to take her back. George accompanies Nancy back West.

This play promises an evening full of high class entertainment which should please everyone for there are both seriousness and comedy. First you will want to laugh then cry.

ACCUSED SLAYER OF GIRL ENDS LIFE

WALKILL, N. Y., March 29.—(INS)—Harry McHugh, local postmaster, charged with the murder of Marie Terwilliger, 19-year-old telephone girl, died at his home this afternoon from a self inflicted wound received shortly before his capture in a lumber yard by state troopers.

FLYERS HOPE TO STAY ALOFT FOR 55-HOUR RECORD

STINSON AND HALDEMAN DRAWING CLOSE TO WORLD'S ENDURANCE RECORD AT JACKSONVILLE

ROUGHER SAILING EXPECTED

Aviators Seek Higher Altitude In Order to Conserve Gasoline Supplies

JACKSONVILLE BEACH, Fla., March 30.—(INS)—Eddie Stinson and George Haldeman descended on the Jacksonville Beach here at 1:20 o'clock, after setting a new world's record for sustained aerial flight.

The fliers took the air at 7:37 a. m. Wednesday and officially established a new record at thirteen seconds past one o'clock, eastern standard time. The old time of 52 hours and 23 minutes was held by German fliers.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 30.—(INS)—Eddie Stinson and George Haldeman, in their big Stinson-Detroiter monoplane, drew close to a new world's endurance record this morning as they dived up and down the beach at an altitude of 5,000 feet.

Midnight marked more than forty hours in the air for the big monoplane. The record is now 52 hours, established by two Germans. Stinson and Haldeman plan to stay aloft at least 55 hours.

A message dropped on the sands of the beach announced that, owing to the humidity of the air, the fliers would seek an altitude of at least 5,000 feet for the remainder of the test, hoping thereby to conserve their gasoline supply. The latter, according to A. Lupole, Wright motor expert attending the airmen, would quickly be consumed through the heat of the motor at a lower level.

Weather reports indicated that within the next few hours the big monoplane would encounter rougher sailing.

SCHOOL BOARD ELECT TEACHERS FOR NEXT YEAR

ACTION OF BOARD AT ITS THURSDAY NIGHT'S MEETING WILL NOT BE MADE PUBLIC UNTIL SATURDAY, IN ORDER THAT TEACHERS CAN BE NOTIFIED BEFORE PUBLIC ANNOUNCEMENT

BUSENBURG NOT RE-ELECTED IS THE UNOFFICIAL REPORT

Although no official announcement of the action of the city school board at its Thursday night meeting has been made, it is unofficially reported that F. L. Busenburg, principal of the High School, was not re-elected by the board. Mrs. Ruth Trembley, principal and teacher of the sixth grade in the Third Ward, is another who was not re-elected, it is said. The report also is that the resignation of Miss Kate Lovett, teacher in the Maple Heights school, submitted several weeks ago, was officially accepted.

The Consolidated School Board, at its meeting on Thursday night, elected teachers for the ensuing year, but newspaper announcement of those elected to continue in the local schools will not be made until Saturday, in order that the school board may give official notice to the teachers prior to making public announcement.

It is understood that little change has been made in the personnel of the present teaching staff for the ensuing year, however.

As yet there have been no election of teachers to fill the vacancies occasioned by the vacancies caused by those not re-elected and to fill the additional positions to be created by more teachers in the Second Ward and one additional primary teacher in the Third Ward.

GEORGE REMUS GAINS FREEDOM FROM ASYLUM

ERSTWHILE "KING OF BOOTLEGERS" FOUND SANE BY OBSERVERS AND ORDERED RELEASED BY OHIO COURT OF APPEALS—MURDERED WIFE WITH GUN

LIMA, Ohio, March 30.—(INS)—George Remus, erstwhile "King of Bootleggers," who killed his wife and then convinced a jury that he was not guilty because of insanity, scored his final triumph today when the Court of Appeals ordered him released from the State Asylum here where he has been confined as a result of the murder trial verdict.

Remus killed his wife, Imogene, in Cincinnati, because, he said, she had been carrying on an affair with Franklin Dodge, former federal prohibition agent. Himself an attorney, Remus pleaded his own case before a Cincinnati jury which declared him "not guilty on the sole grounds of insanity."

Following a sanity hearing he was ordered committed to the state hospital at Lima. An application for a writ of habeas corpus was then entered in the third district court here based on the contention that the papers, committing Remus to the state institution had not been properly signed.

After a hearing several weeks ago the court withheld a final decision in the case pending further observation by Dr. W. H. Vorbau, superintendent of the hospital, and other physicians. Presumably, these observers have now pronounced Remus responsible, and safe to be at large, and on these findings the court ordered his release.

DENEEN LEADER BURNED ALIVE FUNERAL PYRE

CHICAGO EXPERIENCES WORST PRE-ELECTION REIGN OF TERROR IN HISTORY

GIGANTIC BOMB IS FOUND

Enough Dynamite To Blow Up Block Square Of Buildings Found Under Produce Company Loading Platform

CHICAGO, March 30.—(INS)—A gigantic bomb, composed of 16 seven-foot sticks of dynamite, enough to blow to bits a square block of buildings, was found today under a loading platform of the S. & H. Levy Produce Company, commission merchant.

A lighted fuse fifteen feet long had burned about half way to the explosive and had been extinguished, evidently by falling snow. The dynamite sticks were bound together with tape and placed under a rock weighing 100 pounds.

CHICAGO, March 30.—(INS)—Liquor raids and gun play, the fatal "rides" of gangland, fresh threats of bomb throwing, inquests and investigations—all these figures today in Chicago's worst pre-election reign of terror.

William Beatty, municipal court bailiff and eighth ward leader of the Republican faction headed by Mayor William Hale Thompson and state's attorney Crowe was shot and seriously wounded in a midnight raid by dry agents on a "soft drink" parlor.

Beatty was on his way to a political meeting with his wife, when they stopped for a "glass of beer." Twelve prohibition agents, armed with shotguns, pistols, rifles and sledge hammers, staged a surprise raid on the place and in the commotion Beatty was shot.

The politician charged it was a deliberate attempt to assassinate him. Federal agents, however, declared Beatty was not fired upon until he drew a revolver. The man owes his life to a watch which he carried in a vest pocket. The bullet struck the watch which kept it from inflicting a fatal wound.

Several hours later, the body of a man identified by a card in his pocket as Paul Marchese, relative of the slain "Diamond Joe" Esposito, Deneen leader, was found on a smoldering pyre where he had been burned, perhaps alive.

TWO EXECUTED IN COLORADO

CANON CITY, Colo., March 20.—(INS)—Ray Noakes, 23, and Arthur Osborn, 24, slayers of Fred N. Selak, Grand Lake, Colo., hermit, went to their deaths on the gallows here early today.

Just as their victim met death, by hanging, in July, 1926, so did the two youths pay the supreme penalty. Noakes at 12:40 a. m., and Osborn at 1:15 a. m., this morning.

Rev. J. Willis Hamblin, Protestant prison Chaplain, was beside the youths during the last few hours. Mrs. Pearl Reese, sister of Osborn, bid her brother goodbye in the death house before the execution.

Colorado's automatic gallows, by which the convict hangs himself were used.

After the noose has been placed around the condemned man's neck, he steps on a platform. His weight releases a petcock on a barrel of water, allowing the water to flow out. When the barrel has been drained, the lightened weight automatically releases a suspended 350 pound weight that, thru a system of ropes and pulleys, jerks the body of the condemned man seven feet into the air, theoretically breaking his neck.

WEATHER FORECAST

Mostly cloudy tonight, possibly snow in extreme northeast portion. Saturday fair. Not quite so cold in afternoon.

MRS. GOODHUE FAST FAILING AT HOSPITAL

EVEN PRESENCE OF HER DAUGHTER, MRS. CALVIN COOLIDGE, CANNOT LONG WARD OFF DEATH—STRENGTH IS EBBING

By HAROLD J. NOONAN,
International News Service Special Correspondent.

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., March 30.—Mrs. Lemira Goodhue, aged mother of the first lady of the land, is failing rapidly at the Cooley Dickinson hospital, and even the presence of her loved daughter can not long ward off death.

She had rallied so greatly after her daughter's first visit to the hospital that her physicians began to hope that their first fears had been needless, but the false strength soon ebbed and the end is fast nearing.

Mrs. Goodhue is so weak that Mrs. Coolidge will be her only visitor today, and that for but a brief period.

STILL PROBING CROSSING CRASH

Pennsylvania railroad officials, residents of Limerdale and the railroad inspector of the public service commission, were questioned yesterday at a conference conducted by Howell Ellis, commissioner, regarding an accident a few days ago in which two employees of a cement mill at Limerdale were killed at a dangerous railroad crossing. Mr. Ellis said he intends to continue his investigation. Commission records show that gates were ordered installed at the crossing a month or more ago and that they had not been erected when the fatal accident occurred.

LOCAL TRACK ATHLETES IN TRIANGULAR MEET

Bausman will take nine or ten of the Greencastle high school track team to Southport Saturday where they will compete in a triangular meet with Southport and Washington high school of Indianapolis. FISH AND GAME DIVISION NINE YEARS OLD APRIL 1

On April 1 the fish and game division of the state conservation department will have functioned as such nine years. During this period it has launched many projects, chief among which has been the purchase of 1,100 acres of forest land including Weed Patch Hill in Brown County. This huge tract has been converted into a game reservation where wild life propagates unmolested to later spread over the surrounding country to better hunting. Brown county land was purchased with receipts from the division. Part of this reservation was stocked last year with wild turkeys and ring-neck pheasants while rabbits and quail are abundant and naturally will increase in great numbers where protected from hunters. Slowly the division is prepared to add to this public estate and hopes in a few years to have game reservations established at various parts of Indiana.

NEW HIGHWAY COMMISSION MAY ACT QUICK

IMPROVEMENT OF LAKE TO RIVER HIGHWAY THE MOST IMPORTANT PROJECT IN THE STATE, SAYS ED. JACKSON—CHARLES MCGAUGHEY REPORTS TO C. OF C.

NEW DIRECTORS ARE CHOSEN

Harry Allan, John Cannon and Joe Bamberger Are Named As New Directors For Greencastle's Efficient Civic Organization—Several Projects Are Planned

That the movement for the permanent improvement of State Road 43, the River-to-Lake highway, which movement originated and has been developed by the Greencastle Chamber of Commerce, is to become a reality, was given a big boost, Thursday night, when Charles McGaughey, president of the organization, now behind the road building movement, reported that Governor Ed Jackson, had declared that the proposed improvement "is now the State's most important project."

With the re-organization of the State Highway Commission, now under way, it is believed that the project would receive immediate attention and that definite action toward adopting plans for the building of the road will soon be forthcoming.

The Chamber of Commerce meeting, held Thursday evening in the dining room of the Methodist Church, was a most enthusiastic event.

Dr. J. R. Morgan, of Kokomo, an enthusiastic civic worker, was the speaker of the evening. Dr. Morgan told of the success of the Kokomo Chamber of Commerce in securing industries and gave all credit to the untiring work and co-operation of the Kokomo Chamber of Commerce members.

Dr. Morgan stated that hard work and co-operation only are needed to make effective the work of a Chamber of Commerce. He praised Greencastle, Greencastle institutions and predicted that the C. of C. would achieve much if it would continue along the lines it has established.

Loyalty to one's home town and the handling of the home products by the home merchants was advocated by Dr. Morgan as a big step toward civic success. Dr. Morgan proved himself a most interesting talker, illustrating many of his points with wholesome humorous stories.

Robert Stevenson, county agent, and chairman of the Agriculture Committee, reported activity of his committee during the past year. He said that the committee had worked and still is working on a project to secure for this community a cheese factory.

The report of R. P. Mullins, treasurer, showed the C. of C. to be in splendid financial condition, having a balance of $3,613.55.

Mr. Mullins also called attention to the Chamber of Commerce banquet to be held in the High School gymnasium on the evening of Wednesday, April 4, at which the high school basketball squads, coaches and school principals will be the guests of the organization. Not only the Chamber of Commerce but all local basketball fans are invited to attend the banquet. Tickets are 75 cents each. Mayor Charles McGaughey will be chairman of the evening and W. L. Hughes athletic director of DePauw, will be the principal speaker. Music will be furnished by James Bittles. Following the banquet the basketball squads will be the guests of the management of the Voncaste Theatre at a picture show.

Jacob Eitel, chairman of the Commerce committee, stated that his committee is now arranging a series of good-will tours in the county. These tours are to be held this spring. Detailed plans will be announced later.

Harry Allan, John F. Cannon and Joe Bamberger were elected as new directors. Other directors are A. G. Brown, C. B. Havens, Otis Gardner, R. P. Mullins, William Eiteljorge and Charles McGaughey. The directors will meet within the next few days to choose officers for the year.

 "THE JAZZ SINGER," starring Al Jolson, is a Warner Bros. picturization of this novel. It is based upon the play by Samson Raphaelson.

SYNOPSIS

Cantor Rabinowitz has trained his son, Jackie, to sing the Hebrew songs of the Synagogue. On the Eve of the Day of Atonement he finds Jackie singing ragtime in a "beer garden." He whips the child and Jackie runs away. Ten years elapse. Jackie, now Jack Robin, a jazz singer, meets Mary Dale, a dancer, who obtains a part for him in her revue. Jackie returns to New York to star in a musical comedy and urges Lee, the producer, to send for Jack. Jack returns home. His father hears him playing jazz and orders him out.
 Jack goes to the theatre to rehearse.

CHAPTER XI—Continued

"Robin! Where is Robin? That's your cue," Lee was calling.
 Jack jumped up hurriedly and came forward, leaning over his script.

"Gus, where've you been?
 There, that's it," the stage manager was helping him find the place, and Jack began running over his lines and listening to Lee's directions as to his positions. But all the time he was waiting for Mary to say that she would go to dinner with him.

Mary was trying to do a little quick thinking. And for that reason she had delayed purposely in Suppose he told Mary his history. . . .

saying "yes" or "no" to Jack. But she was as impetuous as she was determined. And it was that impetuousness that had made her pick Jack from the crowd in San Francisco and that same determination that had made her see him through and give him his chance on Broadway. And so by now she had made up her mind. As soon as she was off the scene she ran over to Lee and whispered to him.

"Harry, will you do something for me?" she asked. "When Randy comes will you tell him that I've taken Jack out with me because I want to go over his part with him and explain the play?"

"Hey, what's this all about?"
 Lee looked up at the girl beside him.

"Now, don't ask any questions, Harry, there's a dear. Just be a nice person and give him that message."

"All right, I'll tell him, but don't blame me—"

"No one's going to blame you for anything," she laughed and danced off to capture Jack from the other side of the stage as soon as he should finish his part.

CHAPTER XII

Another week of hard, pounding, grinding rehearsals. But the show was beginning to take shape and form and Harry Lee was going about with a smile on his face and a firm belief in his heart that he had a production. Everything was running fairly smoothly, and there seemed to be little now that could mar the success of the venture.
 He felt that he had a real find in Jack, and thus far he had kept his knowledge pretty much to himself with the idea of saving it for an explosive bomb on the opening night. So he sat back and directed easily and earnestly.

"Look, Harry," During a lull in the scene Mary was showing Lee one of the sketches for her costume. "Don't you think it would look a lot better if these plumes were moved over here to the left?" She pointed out a decoration of feathers on the costume. "I'd feel much more comfortable with them there, and if you don't mind I'll ask the costume the next time I have a fitting—"

She was interrupted, as was everyone who tried to say two words to Lee during rehearsals, by the stage doorman.

"Mr. Lee, Mr. Dillings just phoned and said I was to tell you he'd be around this afternoon sometime." The old man turned and hobbled back to his chair in the hallway.

"Thanks, Jimmy," Lee called after him. "No, I don't mind—you can move the plumes where-ever you want them, if the artist doesn't kick," Lee smiled up wearily at Mary.

But Mary was frowning. She had forgotten the costume for the moment and was busy with other problems.

"What's the matter with Randy, Harry. He seems to be dogging your footsteps lately. Has he been saying anything to you about Jack —and me?"

"Oh, more or less," Lee admitted.
 "As a matter of fact, he's been after me to let Jack go."

"He wanted you to let Jack go?
 Well, whatever for? That's perfectly silly."

"He seems to be upset over you, that's all."

"Over me? Why?"
 "Jealousy, for one thing."

"Randy has no right to control me or my actions. Besides, he's never even met Jack," Mary flared up excitedly. "And furthermore, he shouldn't be bothering you about any private affairs. You like Jack's work, and that's the main thing that matters in any case."

"My dear child, you can't tell an 'angel' that. Every person who ever puts ten cents in a show thinks he has a perfect right to direct the entire production, whether he's ever been any nearer the stage than the last row in the balcony. After all, don't let it worry you. You'll probably be all right.
 I've beat off so many backers before that one more or less won't phase me. Run along and attend to your costume."

Mary "ran along" as far as the other side of the stage, but there she found Jack assiduously studying lines and she sat down beside him for a few moments.

"Say, this is a pip of a song, Mary," Jack explained. "Look!" He hummed over the words, beating time with his fingers. "Don't tell me that's not going to catch on."

"Let me see. Oh, is that the new one Harry was getting ready for you? That is good."

They sat there side by side going over the tune until they were interrupted by Lee and a brisk, vibrating young man who coaxed exuberance from every pore.

"Mary, you know Mr. Forbes?
 Jack, this is Franklyn Forbes, our publicity man—Jack Robin," Lee introduced them. "Go ahead, Forbes, and see what you can get.
 Forbes wants to get some kind of a story on you, Jack."

"First off, I want you to tell me the story of your life—where you were born and how and why," Forbes pulled a stubby pencil from the inner depths of his coat and searched about for a piece of paper. "And what you've played in before and all that sort of thing."

Jack looked at Forbes a little hesitatingly and at Mary a little uncertainly. His mind responded to the questions quickly enough, but he caught himself before he answered. Suppose he told Mary his background, his history—would it make any difference to her? He knew something of her life and her family, and the contrast his own would make might prove to be distasteful to a girl whose status in society was so far removed, in its way, from his own.

"Oh, say that I was born of poor but honest parents and my life has been one long struggle for success, and I've played every kind of comedy known to man, but my one desire is to be a tragedian and do 'Hamlet.'" In his anxiety to cover his hesitancy to answer Jack was playing the flippant wise-cracker.

"Listen, Jack, Forbes wants to get this story out. Come on and give him the facts," Lee broke in impatiently.

"Why not write something about Jack's method of putting over a jazz song?" Mary suggested helpfully. "Something about how he feels when he's singing? You know, he has a sort of religious intensity, Harry, when he sings."

"Sure, that's good," Forbes heartily commended the idea. "But I want to get some kind of a background to hang a story on—I don't much care what, just as long as it has some color. I'll make up the rest. You won't have to bother."

"All right, you go ahead, then, and make up anything you want," Jack drew a sigh of relief as he thought himself well away from these forced revelations. "Anything you say will be O. K. with me. I won't call you a liar after it comes out in the papers."

 night risings and during the day I was always suffering with dreadful pains in my back. Sometimes I could that I had liver trouble, which caused severe dizzy spells and spots would too, caused me all kinds of misery and I could never eat a meal of ordi-

"Konjola certainly did everything through my system. My kidneys and my stomach miseries have disapthe plot, which resulted in disappearance of two registered pouches and six other mail bags. Those held at Terre Haute, he said, are Calvin Holmes, 34 years old; Carl Jennings,

You can apply Burdsal's Lac-R-Like Enamel over old surfaces without fear of loosening or lifting the old finish. And a second coat can be applied without softening the first coat.

Burdsal's Lac-R-Like Enamel is pleasant to work with as it has no offensive odor and no unusual fire hazard. Expensive special thinners are not needed. In fact, all objectionable features have been eliminated in this remarkable new finish.

Any Number of shades are easily secured by intermixing the standard colors.

While Burdsal's Lac-R-Like Enamel dries naturally with a satiny-like semi-gloss, it may be polished to a brilliant permanent lustre, the same as the most expensive lacquers.

SPEAKER GIVES LINCOLN A NEW PLACE IN HISTORY

Prof. Andrew C. McLaughlin, of Chicago, one of the four outstanding historians of the United States, delivered an address Thursday night before the DePauw History and Political Science Club. He chose as his subject "Lincoln As A World Figure," and added what he declared to be a new angle to the viewpoint used in the study of Lincoln.

"Lincoln," he said in part, "no more belongs to America than Dante to Italy or Shakespeare to England. When we consider what it was that made his life of so much consequence and why it is that more and more men look up to him we must begin to explain him as a citizen of the world and not of America and study him accordingly."

The speaker went on to show that Lincoln's place in the world was due to certain tendencies taking place all over the world, not in America alone, and that the outcome of certain tendencies in America would determine others far away. Impressive changes were taking place in all countries; changes in social ethics, in nationalities, in industries and in national policies. National consciousness was being aroused among peoples of the same races, and cited as an example the unification of Germany and Italy and the triumph of union in America. It is significant also, he pointed out, that the century saw the passing of slavery, an institution old as the pyramids and almost old as war, in the country where it had taken root most deeply. This passing of slavery in the United States was marked almost at once by the freeing of the serfs in Russia, the enfranchisement of the British workingman and new freedom for Ireland. Slavery was soon abolished in colonial possessions of different countries.

Lincoln, he went on to demonstrate, through his influence on these movements, was the greatest single figure of his century. His greatness lay not in his preservation of the union, for it might have been possible for the people to live just as happily in a number of small states, but in the fact that through preservation of the union he saved democracy throughout the entire world. A broken union meant internal wars, international intrigue and the destroying of commercial prosperity. The union held a principle of life and if the union perished that idea was lost to the world. In that America was the true cradle of humanity, as Lincoln himself said, it was a test to see "whether that nation or any nation so dedicated and so conceived can long endure."

The Civil War victory was the resented slavery because it brought greatest triumph for labor ever achieved. Labor throughout the world the laborer to a level with the slave and destroyed laboring dignity.

According to Prof. E. R. Smith, local government weather observer, rainfall from 8 a. m. Thursday to 8 a. m. Friday was 2.73 inches. From 2:30 p. m. to 5 p. m. Thursday afternoon rainfall amounted to 1.35 inches. Rainfall after 5 p. m. Thursday to 8 a. m. Friday amounted to .39 of an inch.

THE THEATERS

THE VONCASTLE

PATSY RUTH MILLER IN
"RED RIDERS OF CANADA"
"Red Riders of Canada," featuring Patsy Ruth Miller, will be the screen attraction at the Voncastle theatre here Saturday.

The picture, made by FBO, is adapted from the magazine story
"The Pirates of Muskeg," written by William Bryon Mowery and adapted for the screen by Louis Sarecky and Oliver Drake. It was directed by Robert De Lacy for FBO Studios.

The story runs vividly through the great northwest, starting with a double murder by a character called "The Buzzer," a noted fur pirate.

Through an oath of vengeance, Pierre, the son of the murdered man, is himself murdered but helps the "mountie" and his sweetheart, who is Pierre's sister, "get his man."

Patsy Ruth Miller, who is the featured actress of the story, is said to have an emotional role of great power in this feature.

THE GRANADA

"Gentlemen Prefer Blondes" opened last night at the Granada theatre and will be shown again today. It is funnier than the book. And that is saying a whole lot, for Anita Loos' slim little satire on the American gold-digger and the men she fleeced has established itself as one of the comedy classics of the age.

The picture is doubly interesting to those who have read Miss Loos' book, for it elaborates on Lorelei's early life, which was only touched upon in the book. She is seen first on a farm in Arkansas, then in Little Rock, then Hollywood and so on to New York and Paris where she finally lands America's richest bachelor.
How she does it and how she fleeces all the other men with whom she comes in contact are details which should not be divulged. It is enough to say that she "takes" them, one by one, with only her innocent air and her wide eyes and guileless manner as weapons.

It is a picture which every woman and girl will love, if their applause and laughter last night is any indication, and it is a picture every gentleman should see, too—lest he fall into the error of preferring such a blonde.

BOYD WINS ORATORICAL

Ernest Boyd, speaking on "The Significance of the Constitution," won the Montgomery County Oratorcounty in the district contest which

and W. S. Donner, all Greencastle attorneys.

nouncement, made a big move for Democratic harmony.

BIG AUDIENCE HEARS MILLIKAN SCIENCE LECTURE

MORE THAN 1,200 PERSONS CROWD MEHARRY HALL THURS-DAY EVENING FOR TALK ON
"NEW CONCEPTIONS IN PHY-SICS," BY CALIFORNIA SPEAK-ER

Dr. Robert A. Millikan, discoverer of the Cosmic Ray and one of the world's greatest physicists, spoke Thursday evening at DePauw University on "New Conceptions of Science." Students and instructors from many of the state colleges were present for the lecture. It is estimated that more than a thousand persons went to Meharry hall to hear Dr. Millikan, despite the bad weather and the fact that another prominent man, Dr. A.
C. McLaughlin, of the University of Chicago, was speaking at the same time in Rector Hall.

"You young men and women," said Dr. Millikan, "are living in a world which is changing more rapidly and which is filled with more new discoveries than has been the case in more than ten generations that have preceded. It is a period of transition and we are finding new points of view so rapidly that we are shifting our social customs, our ideas about all manner of things, and even our conception of religion."

"But it is a dangerous age," he continued. "Dangerous as well as inspiring and dangerous because while we are reconstructing we are inclined to tear down truth of the past as well as the error of the past. The difficulty lies in that we may not be sufficiently well-educated to know the truth. Our advance is not due to higher capacities than our ancestors but to the fact that they have passed on to us what they have learned."

Dr. Millikan gave an outline of the entirely new line of development that physics has taken since the beginning of the century. He stated that there has been more change in scientific beliefs as pertaining to physics in the last 20 years than in the 150 years that preceded. He also said that physics is a science which touches life most closely. Besides producing change in our external environment it may influence and guide thought, morals, and even spiritual conceptions.

"Do not be too quick to discount the truth of the past, because there is a truth of the past.... Physics has learned to 'walk humbly with its God' and in so doing I think it has brought something to both philosophy and religion," Dr. Millikan said in conclusion.

DEPAUW'S MASCOT DOG SUCCUMBS TO POISON

Thibadeaux, 6-year-old St. Bernard who had been the pride and mascot of the Sigma Nu house and of the whole DePauw campus since he was 6 months old, is dead as a result of poisoning.

Any one who has seen the DePauw football team in action will remember seeing "Trib" walking proudly along in front of the band or following every play along the sidelines, attired in a gold and black jacket.

Many professors mourn his loss, for their classes were conducted to the rhythmic undertone of his sonorous snoring, and his attendance in some courses was nearly perfect.

And while the student body and faculty mourn his death his 3-year-old son Junior lies motionless at the spot where "Trib," leader of the campus canines, made his last fight to ward off the death-dealing poison.

KILLS SELF, HAS ELASTIC HIDE GUN

ARBA, Ind., March 29.—By a ruse through which the pistol with which he killed himself was hidden beneath a barn, Adam Mercer, 60 years old, farmer, attempted either to remove the taint of suicide from his death or to leave behind him the belief that he had been murdered in the opinion of Randolph county officers investigating his death today.

Mercer's body was found by his son, Vern Mercer, lying close to the barn. The bullet from a pistol had entered the head.

No weapon was found by members of the family and Coroner Hinshaw found none after a preliminary search. Close inspection of the spot where the body was found, however, revealed a pistol beneath the barn.
Mercer had fastened a piece of elastic to the weapon so that the instant it was discharged and freed from his lifeless hand it was snapped beneath the building. Mercer's relatives said he had been acting strangely for the past two days.

BAINBRIDGE RESIDENT BURIED ON THURSDAY

day after an illness of ten years of a complication of diseases. She was one of the oldest residents of Bainbridge and the last of her family to die.

Mrs. McKee was born on June 18, 1845, in Union county, Ind., the daughter of James E. and Rachel Quinn. She is survived by one son, Lee McKee. She was a sister-in-law of Milton McKee and an aunt of Mrs.

DODGE BROS. INTRODUCES A STANDARD SIX

FOUR BODY DESIGNS COMPRISE NEW LINE OF CARS SHOWN TO-DAY—PRICES FROM $875 TO $970—DISCONTINUANCE OF
THE FOUR CYLINDER PASSENGER CARS ANNOUNCED

DETROIT, Mich., March 29.— (Special)—After over two years of intensive development work, Dodge Brothers, Inc., today officially announces the Standard Six line of passenger cars, priced from $875 to $970 and superior in speed and acceleration to any cars selling at $1,000 or less. In these new cars, it is claimed, exceptional riding comfort, economical performance and ability to travel at sustained high speeds have been combined with the sturdiness and dependability for which Dodge Brothers motor cars have always been so well known.

The new cars are displayed in the salesroom of H. A. Sherrill, local Dodge Brothers dealer at 7 east Franklin street. The factory is now building the Standard Six in four body types, the coupe, sedan, deluxe sedan and cabriolet, finished in a number of different attractive color combinations. Production of the new sixes is now 1,000 per day and Dodge Brothers schedules call for total output of all types exceeding 1650 per day, the largest production schedule in Dodge Brothers history.

The sweeping graceful lines of the Standard Six give the impression of cars selling at much higher prices.
Although the overall height is low adequate headroom is provided. High seat backs and wide cushions, both tilted at the correct angle, insure the comfort of the passengers.

The engine is of L-head type with bore and stroke of 3 3/8 inches by 3 7/8 inches. The pistons are Bohmalite with alloy steel struts, each fitted with three compression rings and one oil control ring. The combustion chambers are machined to secure equal compression in the cylinders.
This feature and the unusual size of the seven bearing crankshaft insure smoothness of performance at all speeds. The total projected area of the seven main bearings is 24.15 square inches.

The N. A. C. C. rating, on which taxation is based, is 27.34 horsepower but the engine actually develops 55 horsepower. Extensive tests have demonstrated the brilliant perform-

CONFESSES KILLING WIFE WITH HAMMER

Arthur Battelle, left, of Columbus, Ohio, is being held by the police who claim that he has confessed that he hammered his wife to death.
At the right are his eight children who are left motherless through his act, which he is reported to have committed because she tormented him for years.

ance of the Standard Six engine in acceleration, hill climbing ability and in smooth, quiet operation for long periods at high speeds.

The four wheel brakes are completely inclosed and are the steel draulic (mechanical) internal expanding type, operating in 12 inch drums. They respond to the lightest foot pressure with uniform braking on all four wheels. The parking brake contracts on the propeller shaft. Balloon tires 29x5 with wood wheels are standard equipment on all types except the cabriolet which is equipped with wire wheels.

The equipment includes speedometer, ammeter, and oil pressure gauge grouped under a single glass, adjustable hooded instrument lamp, carburetor mixture control and ignition switch with theft lock. The throttle and spark control levers are on top of the steering wheel while the light control switch is on the steering column within easy reach. The cowl ventilator control lever is within easy reach and the ventilator closes against a felt pad. The full vision one-piece swinging windshield is easily adjustable to any position for ventilation and may be opened wide. An automatic wiper is provided.

With the introduction of the Standard Six, Dodge Brothers, Inc. announces the discontinuance of the four cylinder passenger cars which were priced at approximately the same level at which the Standard Six is now offered.

The three distinct lines of Sixes now being made by Dodge Brothers include the Standard Six, the Victory Six and the Senior, at a price range from $875 to $1,770 and embracing all the popular body types and an unusually extensive selection of color combinations.

DEPAUW TO INSTITUTE PREREGISTRATION SYSTEM

A system of preregistration will be instituted at DePauw university, and students will begin to register for next fall, on May 1.

The system is expected to give the faculty members more time to advise students regarding their choice of studies. Under the new system advisors will be appointed by the department heads. This is intended to relieve some professors, who do not wish to be advisors, of this responsibility, and to distribute rather equally the work of getting the students registered. Two days are not long enough for a professor to really study a student's case and advise him wisely, is the argument against the old system.

PEANUT CAUSES DEATH OF CLINTON CHILD

Efforts of Indianapolis physicians to save the life of Bobbie Ross, 18 months old, son of Mr. and Mrs.
Frank Ross of Clinton, who had swallowed a peanut which lodged in the lung, proved futile yesterday at the Methodist hospital. The child swallowed the nut Wednesday and was rushed to the hospital by Clinton doctors. The peanut was removed by Dr. John Carmack, but the child died early yesterday morning.

CHILD STRANGULATED

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 29.— (INS)—Mary Helen, the five months er, was strangled when she slipped down between the mattresses and the foot of an iron bed while the mother was at work in the back yard of the Parker home. The baby's chin caught between the iron rail and the mattress and it was choked to death.

GOLD BAR

Fruits and Vegetables

Is one of the lines that we carry which enables your local Grocer to serve you with the choicest fruits and vegetables on the market.

Anything that will permit your local grocer to buy his merchandise cheaper will in turn allow you to buy cheaper. By having a wholesale grocery near he carries only a small quantity of each article. His turnover is greater, thus decreasing his investment and consequently the cost of each article. Freight rates on small shipments are large—he saves this and turns it over to you.

His stock of goods is always clean and fresh.

In addition to getting your groceries to you, clean, fresh and at a low price, the wholesale grocers, their clerks, cashiers and deliverymen are residents of Grencastle—all boosters for this city.

They pay taxes here, help support the schools, build and maintain streets, police, fire departments and other public institutions.

They offer you a personal Service, through your local grocer, that is not possible through a Wholesale Grocer located miles away.

They offer you QUALITY AND SERVICE at a low price.
